When you buy International Paper products, you can be assured that you have a supplier committed to environmental responsibility. In keeping with our position as a company that has long been at the forefront of sustainability efforts, we seek constant improvements in water and energy usage and the reduction of emissions. Add to that our longstanding policy of using only wood from responsibly managed forests, and you have a company that is clearly as concerned about the environment as it is with producing the packaging products the world wants and needs.

International Paper stands firmly behind our commitment to the brown box, green globe equation and to making even greater strides toward a more sustainable world.
